

Ski & Ride with care. Read the following information carefully.

Alpine skiing and snowboarding are challenging and dangerous recreational activities in rough mountain and forest terrain. Be alert to continually changing weather, visibility, surface conditions and terrain features. Snow, ice, moguls, spines, rolls, jumps, snowmaking mounds, sheer drop-offs, bare ground, rocks, roots, stumps, trees, lift towers, ruts, bumps, snowmaking equipment, grooming vehicles, snowmobiles, other skiers and riders, power poles and many other natural and man-made objects are among the inherent risks of the sport. Falls and collisions with natural or man-made obstacles can cause permanent, catastrophic injury and death. Your safety is directly affected by your judgment. Failure to use good judgment, ski and ride responsibly and follow YOUR RESPONSIBILITY CODE, may result in the loss of skiing or snowboarding privileges. Snowmaking, grooming and ski area maintenance procedures and vehicles may be in operation at any time on trails and slopes. Do not

Reporting Skier Collisions

VERMONT LAW requires any skier or snowboarder involved in a collision with another person which results in injury to provide his/her name and local and permanent address to any other party in the collision and to proceed to a ski area first aid facility and provide the same information to ski area personnel

If you decide to leave the ski area premises and go beyond the ski area boundary (shown by a dotted yellow line bordering the map) - - be aware that Killington assumes no responsibility for safety of, or injury, death or damages to skiers or riders. Backcountry areas beyond the ski area boundary are not maintained or checked by ski area personnel. VERMONT LAW provides that you are liable for all expenses of search and rescue if you ski or snowboard beyond the ski area boundary and a search is conducted. Never ski or snowboard alone.

Steep Trail Sections

Double Black Diamond trails have very steep gradients that may cause a fallen skier or snowboarder to slide considerably farther than on other trails. BE AWARE AND SKI AND SNOWBOARD ACCORDINGLY!

Riding Lifts

Be advised, you cannot board a lift unless you have sufficient physical dexterity, ability and knowledge to negotiate and use lifts safely, or until you have asked for and received information that enables you to use lifts safely.

Natural Woods Areas

If you decide to ski or ride off designated ski trails and enter Natural Woods Areas, be aware they contain dangers, risks and hazards above and beyond those that exist on designated trails. Hazards may include. but are not limited to: rocks, cliffs, dense vegetation, stumps, trees, fallen trees, streambeds, open water, ice, little or no snow cover, tree wells, and snowmaking and electrical equipment. Your ability to return to open and designated trails from certain Natural Woods Areas may be limited or non-existent. Natural Woods Areas are not maintained or checked by ski area personnel. Even minor injuries can become life-threatening emergencies when they occur in Natural Woods Areas. Ski patrol may be unable to provide services to injured skiers and riders in Natural Woods Areas. You assume full responsibility for your safety and any injury, death or damages when you ski and ride in Natural Woods Areas outside open and designated ski trails. Never ski or snowboard alone. You must not enter from or exit onto closed ski trails when skiing or riding Natural Woods Areas.

Your Responsibility Code

Killington is committed to promoting skier and rider safety awareness. In addition to people using traditional alpine ski equipment, you may be joined on the slopes by snowboarders, telemark skiers, skiers with disabilities, skiers with specialized equipment and others. Always show courtesy to others and be aware that there are elements of risk in skiing KNOW THE and snowboarding that common sense and personal awareness can help reduce.
