THE EXTREME LIMITS Unique to Crested Butte, this kind of skiing is the perfect way to enhance your powder technique. The Extreme Limits are not for everyone. This is, true double-black diamond terrain as serious and demanding as you'll find in-bounds at any ski area in North America. While this area is avalanche controlled, it is ungroomed. Watch for rocks, trees and other natural hazards and be responsible. May be closed at any time due to avalanche hazard, snowpack stability considerations or other adverse conditions.

EXTREME TERRAIN The Ski Safety Act describes this terrain as, cliffs with a minimum 20 foot rise over a 15 foot run and slopes with a minimum 50° average pitch over 100 foot run." Sections of the Extreme Limits contain Extreme Terrain. Please watch for the signs.

The Crested Butte Ski Area is located in the Gunnison National Forest and is under permit from the Forest Service/USDA.

Freestyle Terrain

Make a plan. Every time you use freestyle terrain, make a plan for each feature you want to use. Your speed, approach and take off will directly affect your maneuver and landing.

Look before you leap. Scope around the jumps first, not over them. Know landings are clear, and clear yourself out of the landing area.

Easy style it. Start small and work your way up. (Inverted aerials not recommended).

Respect gets respect. From the liftline through the park.
