In the center of the great ski complex lies Squaw Valley Lodge. In fact, you can roll out of bed and travel to the top of the mountain without ever going outside.

Protected from winds, and blessed with an average 450 inches of snow a year, Squaw Valley has become internationally famous as a wintersports center. Its high altitude, and much publicized California sunshine, create a winter atmosphere unique in this country.

At Squaw Valley Lodge you will find luxurious accommodations, as well as moderately priced rooms, with room service, television, telephone, wall-to-wall carpeting, and other conveniences. Also available are such services as a Sauna, medical office, beauty parlor, shops, and almost anything you can think of.

For additional recreation you will find a first run movie theater, and ice skating at the Olympic Arena. Nevada's gambling and great floor shows are only thirty minutes away.

A gourmet cuisine is offered at the famous "Chef's Corner", and the Olympic Grill has served skiers from all over the world. The Cocktail Lounge, Bars, and Beer Garden are open day and night for a vivid apres ski life, with nightly dancing and entertainment of course. The High Camp Restaurant, Bar and Nightclub are located at the top terminal of the Gondola.

INTERNATIONALLY FAMOUS SQUAW VALLEY

invites you to its renowned Olympic slopes. The network of Tramways, Gondolas, Chairlifts, and Beginner Lifts is the newest and biggest in the United States.

This means all-day skiing without waiting in line. The endless slopes and superb snow conditions make Squaw Valley one of the few places where European-type alpine skiing really exists from early November until July. Squaw Valley, located in California's High Sierra is easily reached by ultra-modern Freeways, Airlines, Railroads, and Bus Lines, making it the most accessible wintersports center in the country. The Squaw Valley Ski School's fifty instructors are waiting to teach beginners the fundamentals of safe skiing, and experts the very last word in skiing technique.
