Trail and slope conditions vary constantly with weather changes and skier use. Be aware of changing conditions. Obey all advisory signs. Ski with care through a snowmaking area and stay out of the way of snow vehicles.

SKI AREA BOUNDARIES

The Ski Area Boundary is defined by the use of signs and/or rope lines. For your own safety, ski within the designated area. Red Lodge Mountain is not responsible for any avalanche control or rescues beyond this boundary; nor are areas outside the designated boundaries patrolled. If you choose to go beyond these boundaries, you expose yourself to uncontrolled avalanche dangers and wild, unfamiliar terrain. Any rescues beyond the ski area boundary will be done through the Carbon County Sheriff's Department (446-1234) and you will be charged for the rescue. Certain slopes or areas within the ski area boundaries may be closed from time to time. Please respect these closures for your own safety. Failure to do so will result in the loss of pass or lift ticket.

NOTICE

"The purchaser and user of a lift ticket assumes and understands that skiing is a hazardous sport. Bare spots, variations in snow, ice and terrain along with bumps, moguls, stumps, forest growth, debris, rocks and many other hazards or obstacles exist within this ski area. In using the ticket and skiing at this area, such dangers are recognized and accepted whether they are marked or unmarked. The skier realizes that falls and collisions do occur and may cause severe and permanent injury." As outlined in the Montana Skier Responsibility Act of 1989, the skier accepts the risks inherent in the sport of skiing and the legal responsibilities for skiing under control at all times.

MONTANA SKIER RESPONSIBILITY ACT- 1989

The Montana Legislature recognizes that there are risks inherent in the sport of skiing, regardless of any and all reasonable safety measures which can be employed. The Montana Skier Responsibility Act of 1989 contains provisions that are important to all skiers. Those provisions include:

- A skier is responsible for knowing and skiing within the range of his ability and for abiding by the requirement of the Skier Responsibility Code.
- A skier shall maintain control of speed and course so as to prevent injury to himself or others and shall obey all posted or other warnings and instructions of the ski area operator.
- No skier involved in an accident with another skier may depart from the scene of the accident without leaving personal identification; notifying the proper authorities; and obtaining assistance when a person involved in the accident is in need of medical or other assistance.
- A skier accepts all legal responsibility for injury or damage of any kind to the extent that the injury or damage results from risks inherent in the sport of skiing.

YOUR RESPONSIBILITY CODE

These are elements of risk that common sense and personal awareness can help reduce.

- Stay in control.
- People ahead have the right of way.
- Stop in a safe place for you and others.
- When starting downhill or merging, look uphill and yield.
- Use devices to help prevent runaway equipment.
- Observe signs and warnings, and keep off closed trails.
- Know how to use the lifts safely.
